

the COMPANY

We are a small company that produces jams, sauces and dips. We are located in the hinterland of Imperia, fifteen minutes from the sea. In our laboratory we prepare traditional recipes, using carefully selected raw materials.

We employ a traditional process and match our experience to innovation. When you open a jar of our products you can discover the scents and flavors of nature, combined with the passion and feeling that we put into our work. Fruits and vegetables keep all its aroma and its fragrance like freshly picked.

We have developed a food safety program based on the HACCP method by applying procedures relating to the safety and integrity of food products, as required by the European Regulation (EC) on the hygiene of foodstuffs.

Our work is often targeted at companies that want the cooperation of a serious and trustworthy partner. The work "third party" is our strong point, because we are able to work closely with our clients, even trying and testing their recipes in order to ensure the best results.
